

OUTSOURCED OHS/WHS

To be truly effective, health and safety has to be an everyday process supported by all as an integral part of workplace culture.

Health + Safety Executive, The UK national independent watchdog for work-related health, safety and illness.

Every business, no matter how small or large, has a legal and moral responsibility to care for the health and safety of their workforce and to ensure that they go home safe at the end of the working day. However, the reality is that OHS/WHS is a complex area with a lot of rules and regulations and requires the focus of an experienced and senior executive with specialised skills.

If your business is committed to a culture of safety but can't afford to hire a senior executive to join the team, then JTA's Outsourced OHS/WHS service is the answer for you. As one of the leading providers of occupational health and safety in Australia, we have a team of OHS/WHS professionals with a range of industry experience who can provide leadership, training and mentoring on a part time basis, as needed.

Why You Should Consider Outsourcing Your OHS/WHS:

- Reduces the need to keep up to date with complex OHS/WHS legislation
- Allows you to integrate all your OHS/WHS services + achieve economies of scale
- Eliminates the need to add to your senior headcount
- Provides continuity of service all year

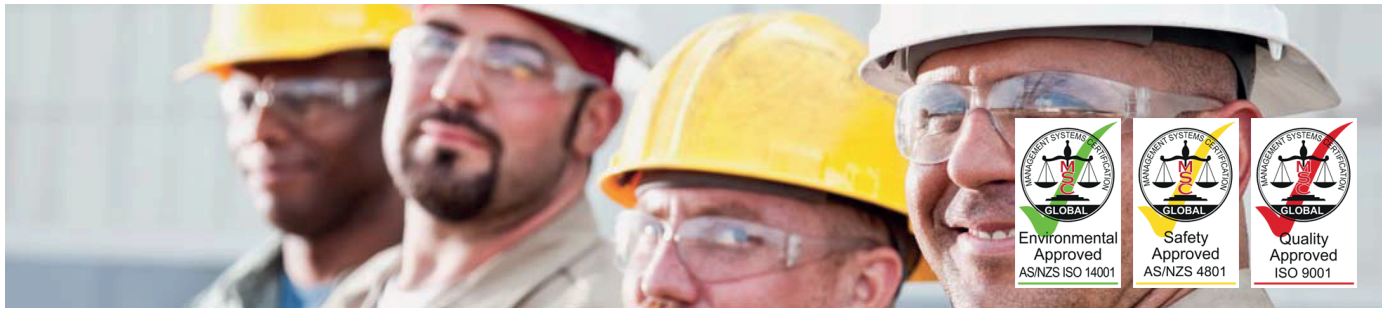

Outsourcing is a realistic and affordable way to achieve your objective of a culture of safety. We'll allocate a lead OHS/WHS specialist to your business who will develop a close, working relationship with your organisation. They'll take the time to get to know your business and culture so that they can determine what your requirements are and the best way to ensure that these requirements are met.

JTA can provide your business with an outsourced solution that suits your needs, industry and budget enabling you to focus on your core competencies and achieve your business objectives. You'll gain a strategic partner who is committed to your business and the successful implementation of a culture of safety.

Our Outsourced OHS/WHS Service Can:

- Audit your business + assess your needs
- Determine how often you require an onsite OHS/WHS specialist (eg. weekly, monthly)
- Allocate the person (or team) with the appropriate skills
- Develop an OHS/WHS Management System in consultation with stakeholders
- Implement the necessary policies and procedures
- Attend health and safety meetings
- Keep you up to date with your compliance requirements

Outsourcing your OHS/WHS to an experienced consultant eliminates the challenge of managing this function internally and can deliver much better results than if you try to implement it yourself or have more junior resources implement projects in house. What it means is that you can go back to focusing on your core business and what is needed to achieve growth.

The Benefits of Outsourced OHS/WHS:

- Allows you to manage the OHS function at a senior level
- Takes pressure off other key personnel
- Assists you in complying with all relevant legislation
- Provides flexibility by allowing you to scale up or down
- Minimises hazards and risks
- Makes your workplace a safer place to be
- Provides an OHS/WHS system tailored to your needs
- Enhances health awareness across your workforce
- Improves workforce morale + productivity
- Provides access to up to date information + a range of expert skills

JTA can provide your business with an outsourced solution that suits your needs, industry and budget enabling you to focus on your core competencies and achieve your business objectives. You'll gain a strategic partner who is committed to your business and the successful implementation of a culture of safety.
